Reasons for Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the closest prior art of record (Rayes, U.S. Pub. No.2005/0086502) does not teach nor suggest in detail "a system embodied on a computer-readable storage medium that facilitates determining a state of a networked system, comprising: a component that obtains system data corresponding to a system component that resides on a first networked system and to a system component that resides on a second network system, the second networked system is external to the first networked system; and an aggregator that aggregates the system data corresponding to the first networked system and the second networked system in accordance with predetermined rules, analyzes at least a subset of the system data and generates an output comprising hidden information obtained via data mining that identifies trends occurring across the first and second networked systems and corresponding to respective states of a subset of components of the first and second networked systems, the output utilized to automatically limit utilization of at least one aspect of the first or second networked system according to a defined limit on t-he aggregate utilization of resources of at least one such system." in combination with all the elements of each independent claim as argued by Applicant (see pages 11-15 of applicant's argument dated 05/06/2009 as well as the enabling portions of Applicant's specification, pages 3, 4, and 7-11). So as indicated by the above statements, Applicant's arguments have been considered persuasive, in light of the claim limitations as well as the enabling portions of the specification.

2. The dependent claims further limit the independent claims and are considered allowable on the same basis as the independent claims as well as for the further limitations set forth.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

3. Claims 1-4, 7-32, 34-37 and 39-41 are allowed. Renumbered 1-36.
